

Orient Planet

PR & Marketing Communications

Publication: Khaleej Times
Country: UAE
Circulation: 81,820
Date: 16 June 2006
Page: 6

Cop with special needs excels in ICDL course

By a staff reporter

ABU DHABI — A UAE cop with special needs has lived up to the Bard's famous words 'Yield not thy neck to fortune's yoke, but let the dauntless mind riseth in triumph over all misfortunes' when he scored a distinctive mark in International Computer Driving Licence (ICDL).

The iron-willed policeman Mohammed Khalfan Al Mansouri was honoured along with 167 other trainees at a ceremony held here yesterday to mark the conclusion of 10 training courses organised by the Abu Dhabi Police.

Colonel (Pilot) Ali Mohammed Al Mazruwai, Director of the Air Wing Department at the Abu

Khalfan Al Mansouri receives award from Colonel Ali Mohammed Al Mazruwai.

Dhabi General Police Directorate, honoured the graduates. The course was designed to prepare the second generation of the Police Command, who specialised in statistical data processing, skills of dealing with the diplomats, diving and dealing with equipment for total destruction, human trafficking, and the ICDL course.